Dear Linda,
May you receive
all the happiness you deserve, and all the good luck in the world.
Mary Elizabeth

Linda,
It certainly was a great knowing you this year, & I hope we can always be friends.
Ann Green

Linda,
Best of luck
to a wonderful girl. It was fabulous being with you this year.
Sue M

Linda,
In spite of every thing, this has been a great year and I owe part of its greatness to
you. Good Luck!
Jelen

Linda,
Best of luck
as a starter. It was a lot of fun
knowing you in the
Juno play. Now too, for that matter.

MR. BILL R. LAFFERTY

Mr. Lafferty, principal of Jefferson since 1961, served as vice-principal for two years and as dean of boys before assuming the duties of his present position last year.

A man of diverse interests, Mr. Lafferty collects Early American crystal and Civil War books. He maintains membership in the Kennel Club and collects classical and semi-classical records.

Interested in his own professional growth, Mr. Lafferty is a member of the National Education Association, Texas State Teachers Association, Texas Association of School Administrators, National Association of Secondary School Principals, San Antonio Administrators' Association, and Phi Delta Kappa.

During World War II, Mr. Lafferty prepared an analysis of Far Eastern Affairs for the Air Force and later worked as the planning and scheduling coordinator for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mr. Lafferty finds time to be present at school functions and to act as a friend to the numbers of high school students who occupy so much of his time and seek his advice.

Mr. Lafferty holds a B.S. degree from the University of Texas and a M.Ed. from Trinity University.

Advise, Admonish, and Administer

MR. BOB CHAMBERS

An ex-Mustang with letters in basketball and football, Mr. Bob Chambers has completed his first year as dean of boys. Previously he has served Jefferson as a Pony football coach and a teacher of algebra and biology. Before assuming duties as dean of boys, he was principal of Harry Rogers Junior High.

Mr. Chambers holds membership in the Texas State Teachers Association, National Education Association, and Administrators and Supervisors Association of the San Antonio Independent School District.

Guiding and helping boys with firmness and justice, he has gained the respect of faculty and students alike.

Mr. Chambers holds B.S. and M.A. degrees from Trinity University.

"She never raises her voice nor loses her smile, but we know she means business."

The feminine population would guess immediately that Mrs. Payton Kennedy, dean of girls, was the subject of discussion.

Since 1952 Mrs. Payton Kennedy has served as dean of girls. Before coming to Jefferson she earned certificates of counselor, teacher, and administrator. Mrs. Payton Kennedy has been principal of Fort Sam Houston Kindergarten and president of the San Antonio Association of Women Deans and Counselors.

Mrs. Kennedy wrote and taught the course of study for family life education to more than seven thousand students in five San Antonio schools.

Mrs. Kennedy holds memberships in the National Education Association, Texas State Teachers Association, Mental Health Association, and Supervisor's Association.

Always able to offer guidance, she takes a personal interest in the problems of students.

She holds a B.A. degree from Trinity University and an M.A. from Southwest Texas State College.

MRS. PAYTON KENNEDY

School Board Meets Local Needs

MR. THOMAS B. PORTWOOD
Superintendent of Schools

MR. OSCAR E. MILLER
Assistant Superintendent of Secondary Schools

Seven members of the San Antonio Independent School District allocate about two hundred sixty dollars for each student each year. The wisdom with which this money has been spent has kept San Antonio schools running efficiently. Thomas Jefferson High, along with the other San Antonio schools, ranks high academically. To achieve its high purposes, the Board meets regularly on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Members of the Board are Mr. James G. Kizer, president; Mr. L. E. Fite, vice-president; Mr. Ralph R. Cardenas, secretary; Mrs. W. Hayden Miller, assistant secretary; Mrs. Claude B. Aniol, Mr. George C. Guthrie, and Mr. Thomas A. Murrah.

Mr. Thomas B. Portwood, superintendent of schools, and Mr. Oscar E. Miller, assistant superintendent of secondary schools, meet with the Board to present the needs of the 101 schools in the system.

Ranking among top Mustang boosters, Mrs. Margie Atkins is enthusiastic about the "red and blue" and keeping records of attendance.

Keeping permanent records in perfect alphabetical order helps Miss Barbara Anderson go through the daily routine. Her duties include processing of bills, looking after School Board requisitions, and issuing lockers.

Mrs. Shelia Cooper, registrar, keeps grade records, posts grades at the end of the term, and transcribes college entrances.

Main Office Heart Beat of School

Typing one of the daily communications that flows from the Main Office takes up some of Mrs. Ethel Guzzardo's time. Most of her duties are in connection with the issuing of text books.

Doing business with Mrs. Sally Ehlert is pleasant, and so is her gracious presence at the main counter when students or teachers need help.

ice-president reports are notoriously dull—except when Mrs. Janice Swanson makes hers. Although regular meetings get down to serious business, the executive council's planning sessions are as lively as the members themselves. (l.-r.) Mrs. Alma Petrich, Mrs. Carolyn Cranberry, Mrs. Mary Lou Bass, Mrs. Wilma Jennings, Mrs. Katherine Swartzkopf, and Mrs. Janice Swanson.

"The Jennings' Year" will be one long remembered by Jeff, for it is not every year that the president of the P.T.A. and two six-point officers belong to one family. Doyleene, Mrs. Jennings, and Ann celebrate the twins' eighteenth birthday.

The dream-come-true night of graduation for the seniors is even more delightful because of a party sponsored by the P-T.A. Money used for this event comes from their only money-making project, the Talent Show in February.

Completing the Language Lab by buying 15 more units was another accomplishment of the 1962 P-T.A.

The October meeting was a night open house so that parents could become better acquainted with teachers.

The P-T.A., under the guidance of Mrs. Wilma Jennings, has invested heavily in the youth of Jefferson in carrying out this year's theme, "Youth—Our Investment in Democracy."

Talks for Parents - Teachers

Honoring the "founding mothers," the P-T.A. Founders Day Luncheon celebrated the 50th anniversary of the Fifth District. School Board members, administrators, and all past presidents were guests of honor. Luncheon guests numbered about 145.

"Articulate and project!" booms Drama Director Jean Longwith from backstage. Readers of "The Littlest Angel" rehearse their parts for the Christmas Assembly with coaching from the sidelines.

They Take Good Care of All of Us

Salads, sandwiches, and desserts that hungry students consume in only a few minutes take about four hours to prepare. Cafeteria workers Mesdames Willette Botello, Nadine Ennis, Gladys Little, Elizabeth Gormley, Katheryn Rodriquez, Evangeling Guajardo, and Violet Ferguson report at 7 A.M. to slice, chop, mix, and spread goodies for their customers.

Keeping the building clean and the campus beautiful require the same dedication to this school that all true Jeffites feel. Mr. Ernest Bankhead and Mr. Oscar Metzger enjoy their jobs as head custodian and gardener.

A well-run school depends not only on the administrators but also on a good maintenance crew. Mr. Ernest Bankhead, head custodian, eight assistants, and two maids provide the care and upkeep of the building. Their jobs continue the year round when summer school is held at Jefferson.

The 33-acre campus with its profusion of seasonal flowers and rolling green lawn is kept attractive by Mr. Oscar Metzger, head gardener, and his assistant. Mr. Metzger, better known as "Shorty," seems as much a part of Jefferson as the flowers he cares for.

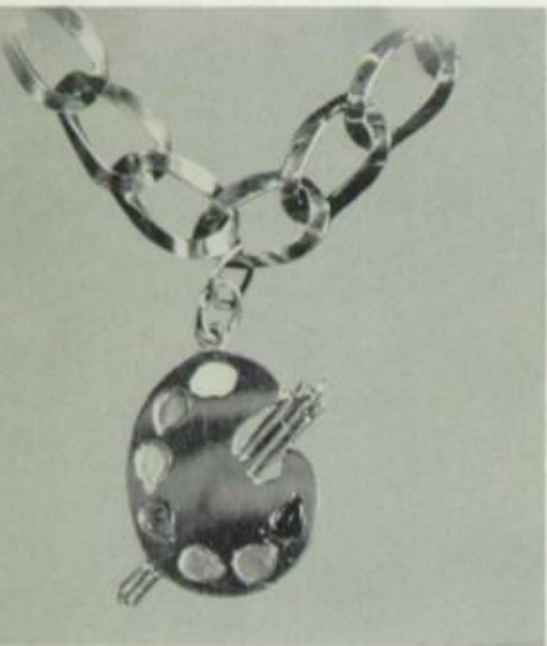

Providing students with hot lunches, salads, sandwiches, and desserts is a day-long process for cafeteria workers. Everyday they prepare about 50 dozen salads, and 400 desserts. The Jefferson family with its 2500 children has dozens of adults who, like their parents, love them and take care of them.

Top Ten Translate Tradition

Combining ability, character, and a love of Jefferson traditions, ten students claim six-point offices annually. This honor, achieved on merit alone, is the highest that the student body can bestow upon fellow students.

Student Council Pres. Ken Wantzloebe has guided the enthusiasm and efforts of the student governing body during a busy and rewarding year. Class presidents Wayne Brown and David Miller have shown maturity of judgment and dedication to those who elected them. School service, sportsmanship, and the spirit of the Lassos have complemented the energy of their major, Beverly Davis, in a year that saw a dramatic change in the pep squad's uniform. Drum Major Marion Means has been in command of the Mustang Band whether that group was marching impressively to the strains of the fight song, or in competition with other marching units for honors. Colonel of the Girls' Cadet Corps, Ann Jennings, has led her 38 cadets in military precision during games and parades. Cadet Col. Jerry Hines of the Reserve Officers Training Corps has trained members of his group for parades, for checking school parking lots, and for careers in military services. Monticello Editor Doyleene Jennings and Declaration Editor Barry Browne have projected the image of Jefferson at its best through their publications. Jerry Richie has held the first six-point editorship of Each Has Spoken, Jefferson's literary magazine.

These six-pointers have defined the true dimension of Jefferson. The next few pages are dedicated to those ten students whose year of service to the school in 1961-62 has enhanced its magnitude and prestige.

(MONTICELLO) EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Sinda you best may all the best have everything. You're a great girl
"The CHARM of '62???"

This was the anguished cry of the sports editors of the 1962 MONTICELLO. They began to suspect that Jefferson's yearbook might come out done in pink ruffles and smelling faintly of Chanel No. 5 since they themselves had elected a "girl-type" editor, the first in eight years.

"But," defended the editor, "there is the charm of '62 which doesn't wear ruffles and perfume."

There are the obvious facets of Jefferson which exist only in our subconscious minds. These are the intangible qualities which we hope to present to the student body in a tangible manner throughout the pages of this yearbook.

The thrill of glowing faces after a victorious game or the disappointment glistening in the tears of defeat . . . the clicking of typewriters as students prepare for the Texas Association of Student Councils Convention held at Jeff in March . . . the painted clouds of evening when the sun splashes the domes with its scarlet rays . . . the pride-filled chill each Jeffite feels as he stands to sing "There is a school we all love well . . ."

These are the charms of Jefferson, 1962, everpresent, yet not often noticed."

And Everywhere the People:

Their voices project from the stage, echo in the halls, and buzz gossip in the Cafeteria. They hurry up the steps to beat the bell—and wait in line for tickets, for registration, and for a quick lunch. They study during the five-day week and anticipate a prom in a glittering Gym. Seniors collect note cards for term papers. Juniors prepare for the Junior-senior Prom. And the sophomores remained confused. Their applause rings in the darkened auditorium, from the bleachers, and on the open field. Their eyes watch a bouncing basketball, a waving flash of red and blue streamers, and the slender fingers of the clock approaching 3:30. They bow their heads in prayer, stand at attention to sing the Anthem, and bang on stubborn lockers. And they are everywhere. They are the people of Jefferson High School.

Sweethearts relived a "Treasure of Memories" at the annual Sweetheart Ball on February 10. Highlighting the center of the Gym, a giant red and white satin heart revolved, commemorating the first 30 years of the Shakespeare Literary Society.

Dancing to the music of Erwin Scott's orchestra were Debbie Bass and escort Dick Cunningham.

When those final few seconds tick away, the north end of Alamo Stadium becomes a blur of swirling pom-poms, stomping Lasso boots, bright red and blue uniforms, and shiny football helmets as the victory line forms.

Personable Players Give

Transformed into a reproduction of the Globe Theatre, the Jefferson stage became an authentic setting for the Senior Frolic presentation, "Taming of the Shrew." Sets were laboriously painted in a popular style of the Sixteenth Century; work began as early as October on a forestage which extended over the orchestra pit.

The play was such a hit that actors taken from day and night casts gave a command performance, the first such performance in Jefferson's history.

Popular Performances

Pert Pony cheerleaders lead a crowd of Jeffites in the cheers which spurred the "Little Hosses" to city championship in the fall, 1961. Alamo Stadium proves to be only one outlet for school spirit during the football season. Students spend many sunny afternoons on the school's Pony field encouraging the Pony B team on to triumph.

Show Them Jeff High Is Here!

Lassos, Girls' Cadet Corps, Band members, and just plain people turned up in the school parking lot to give spirited stimulation to the Mustang football team just before the Brackenridge game.

Crowds in Corpus Christi's Buccaneer Stadium applaud the formation of the Taj Mahal. "Journey through India" was the theme of the final half-time performance of the year, presented by Lassos and Mustang Band members at the Ray-Jefferson game.

Football season is over. Even though nobody liked the way it ended, the traditional banquet given by Lassos made it official. With money from magazine subscription sales, Lassos honor participants in major sports at the close of their athletic seasons.

Chrysanthemums and happy faces mark this final district football game, Lassos make traditional gifts of decorated mums to officers and cheerleaders in appreciation for their efforts to promote interest and spirit for school functions.

"In the lane, snow is glistenin' . . ." and it glistened even in the Gym on the evening of the annual Snowman's Ball, as Ann Jennings and Bobby Lee glided along in a one-horse open sleigh.

Guests sang the beloved songs of Christmas time, and Ann and Bobby led them in a chorus of the popular "Winter Wonderland," theme of the Student Council's most elaborate social event.

Classes and clubs frequently enjoy visits from distinguished individuals. Journalism students learned the fundamentals of interviewing when Mrs. J. T. McConathy, the former Miss Shizuko Kawamoto, met the press in native dress.

We Are Colorful Characters

Zandra Alvarado's experiment is explosive, but her attitude is confident!

Bugles Call, Busses Stall

A broken-down bus presented no problem to Jefferson students on the way home from the Austin game. Senate members and their dates simply loaded a new vehicle with only a short interruption of snacks and naps.

Presentation of bright red knit shirts with the words "Jefferson Mustang" lettered in blue on the pockets was a secret kept by 180 Lassos from the first day of school until late in October. Mustangs in all major sports proudly wore the shirts during the appropriate seasons.

Nothing Matches Lucy's Drawl

"THEN," says Lasso Capt. Lucy Crawford, "we'll do a DAHLING little Monkey Drill, and THEN, wait 'til I TELL you!"

And when Lucy sees this, she'll simply DIE. Her Company H later won the competition drill, and she won "Best Captain."

We Congregate, Initiate, Illuminate

Three years of journalistic experience for Fredrica Wiegand on three staffs qualifies her for membership in Quill and Scroll Journalism society. Roxie Ashworth pins on the gold scroll as she congratulates her peer at the November initiation.

The library: a room brightened by volumes in colors ranging from light golden brown to rich maroons; a quiet place of refuge from the noisy crowds of students making their way down the hall; a showplace for polished trophies brought home from arenas of victory by proud Jeffites.

The glow of a golden sunset magnifies each shadow and artistic swirl of design in the room, a sight enjoyed by none but the last to leave on an early spring evening.

"And now, may I present to you, the cadet colonel of the Girls' Cadet Corps for 1962-63, Deborah Cunningham!" The voice of Mrs. Pearl S. Doolittle rang out in the spacious ballroom at Agudas Achim, and backstage, Debbie's hands flew up in delight as she heard her own name announced as the chief executive.

Announcement of the R.O.T.C. Colonel and all G.C.C. officers comes annually at the Military Ball, sponsored by Jefferson's military groups.

Yellow-orange flames flickering in the black night ended festivities at the Senior Picnic. Guests gathered 'round the blazing bonfire to sing ballads and folk songs. Held at Camp Alzafar in early November, the picnic for seniors and guests initialed the year's social activities.

We Take a

In a moment a bell will shatter the early morning silence and the hall will fill with racing students darting to representative meetings and early classes. Books will be piled into lockers and metal doors will slam shut. Friends will gather to chatter in the halls . . . Another school day has begun.

No important occasion at Jefferson slips by without a banner headline across the main hall. Eye-catching colors and gay jingles never go unnoticed. This year they even became three-dimensional. People not only read the admonition but went so far as to ask, "Who did that one?" Colorful banners not only brighten blue Mondays, but give students things to look forward to the rest of the week.

Glimpse Into the Corners of Jeff

One of the natives pauses for a refreshing drink at a local oasis. This wayfarer must have been last in line, as she is savoring every drop.

"We're off! Tonight we graduate!" But first a quick supper then roll-call in the basement of the Municipal Auditorium.

With royal blue robes casually slung in the back seat, Cliff Taylor and Betty Sjurseth leave school to eat and get ready for the May 29 Commencement.

Tense and nervous in the wings: more than one thousand Jeffites each year experience the feeling.

Awaiting her cue to appear in the annual P.T.A. Talent Show, vocalist Melinda Atkins experiences last minute jitters backstage.

Amid backstage excitement and scents of spray net, powder, and perfume, Marion Means, Carolee Graham, and Pat Hamrick await their turns on the brightly spotlighted ramp of the annual Shakespeare Style Show.

*There Are No People

We Reflect,

"Nuts! Who was the wise guy with the marbles?"

"And there's not much to say about David's grades—he made a 'B' this year!"

"May I have your attention, please? There will be a run-off election for next year's Student Council president."

Then Elect

Campaigning for Student Council president ran true to form; the halls were crowded with enthusiastic Jeffites on the first morning of elections, each trying to persuade another that his candidate was best. During the election assembly, candidates were introduced to the student body by an impartial speaker, Beverly Davis. Ken Wantzloebe himself, Student Council president for 1961-62, instructed students on the use of the county voting machines. And when the votes were all in and tabulated on the second day of elections, the announcement came—David Miller, the new Student Council president of 1962-63.

"It is 6' 3" in '63!!!"

"Wait until a black 'X' is seen; then you turn the little red lever and the curtain will open—I hope!"

TIMES

Members of Mrs. C. Y. Moore's fifth period English class tensely waited out the seconds before Colonel Glenn's recovery in the Atlantic Ocean.

Sleepy-eyed students climbed from their beds earlier than usual that morning to observe the launching, but to no avail. Each minute the take-off was postponed, the number of tardies and absences increased.

When Astronaut John Glenn orbited the earth in his Friendship 7 rocket Tuesday, February 21, activity ceased throughout the country while anxious Americans watched and prayed; TJH was no exception, with radios set up in several classrooms.

Jefferson High
HOST

Jefferson opened its doors on March 29 to welcome 1600 delegates and 400 sponsors during the annual convention of the Texas Association of Student Councils. Hurried preparation for the big day perhaps caused the misspelling of the "Information" card. Kent Kottler and Margaret Agnew must think the missing "R" stands for relaxation.

'Infomation?' Please!

Enjoying a rare free moment during the course of a busy day, convention cabbies failed to notice two exhausted delegates waiting for a ride to their home-like "botels."

Transportation for visiting Student Council members was furnished by a taxi service comprised of San Antonio high school boys.

The All-school Youth Symphony Orchestra fills a great need among high school students who have above-average ability in instrumental music and whose interest make desirable such an organization.

Youth Orchestra members, selected from San Antonio high schools by auditions, presented 15 concerts this year; the Jefferson stage was the scene of one of the most impressive of these outstanding performances.

We Face the Music

Posing for the photographer was the only lull in the comedy, "Life with Father," presented by the Junior Class. The antics of an old-fashioned family tickled many a funny bone.

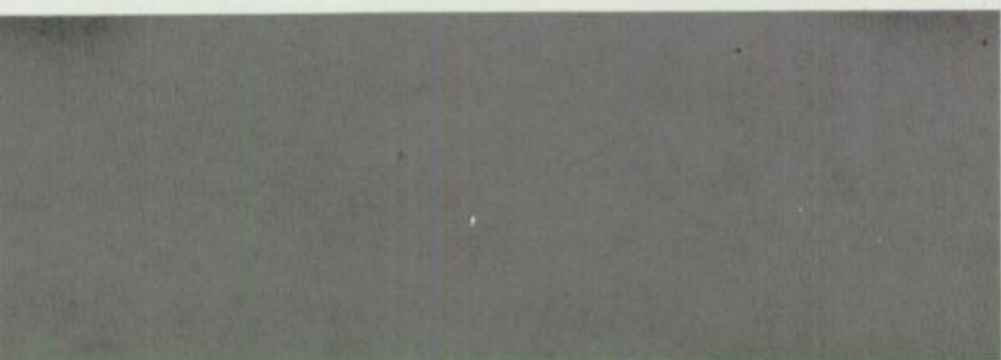

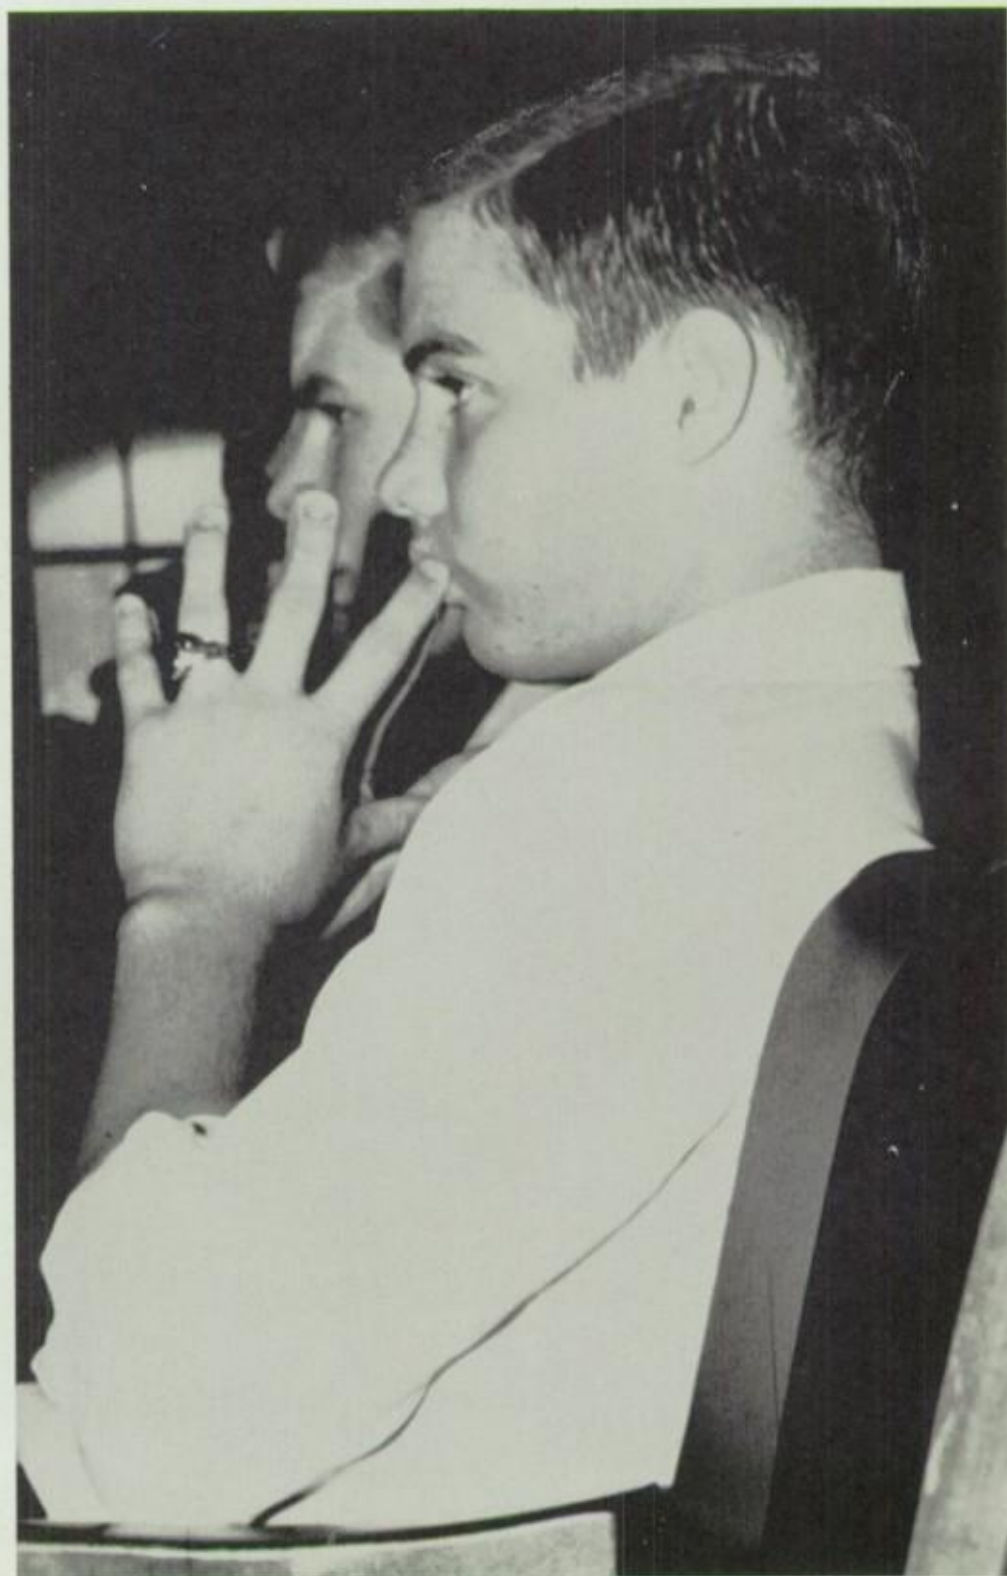

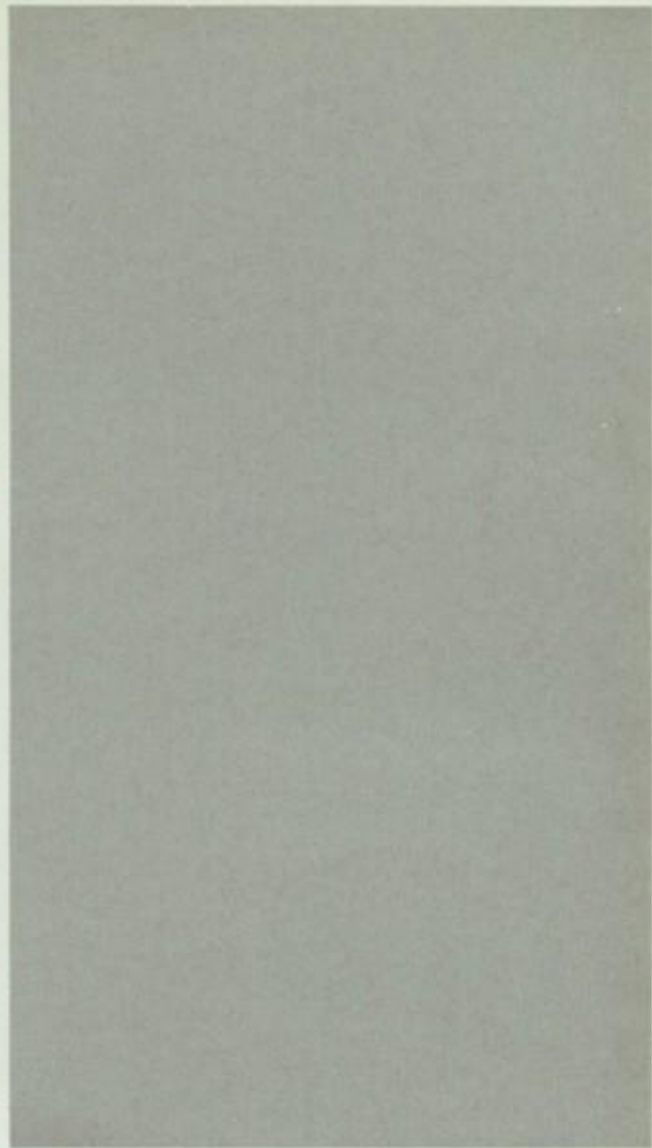

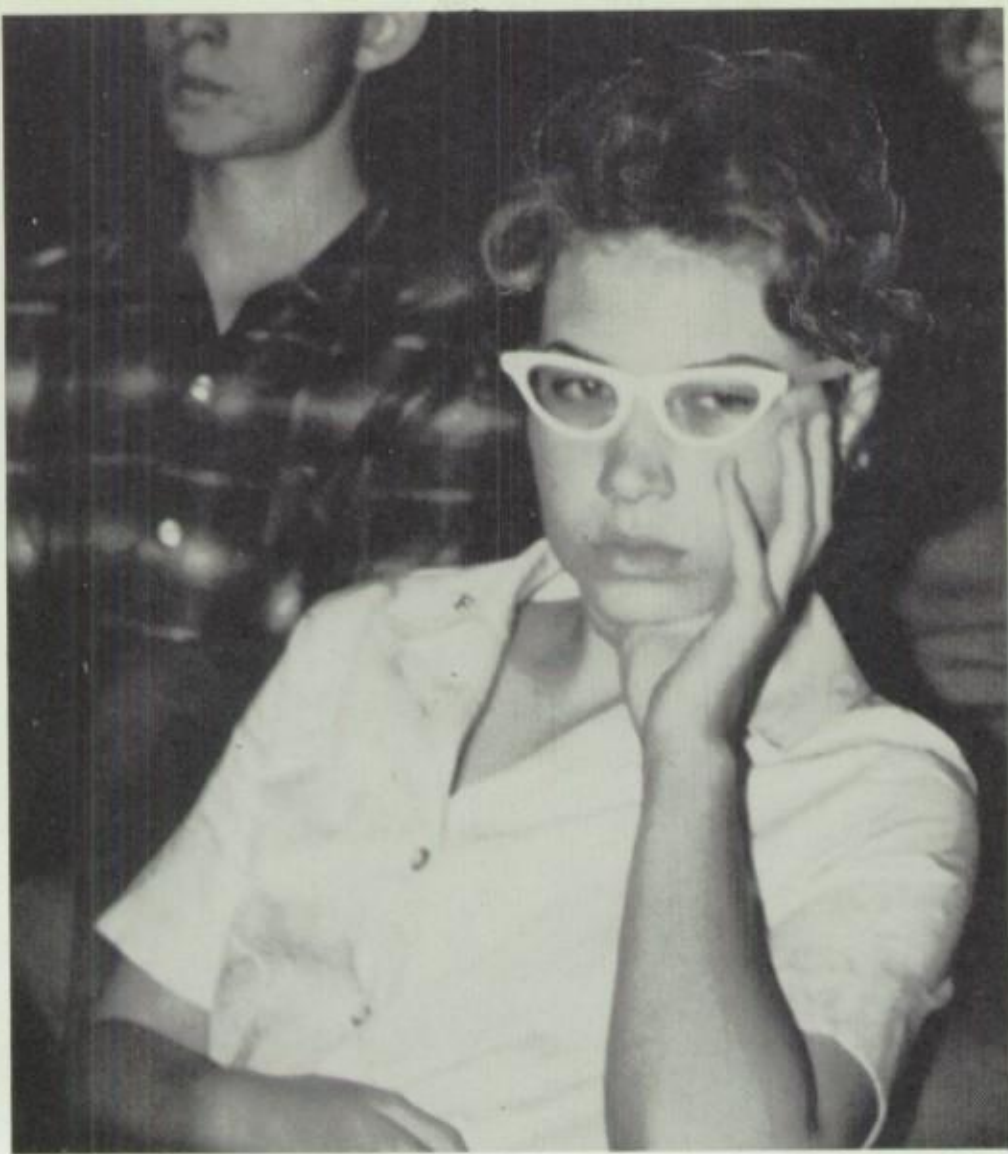

Mother and Father were portrayed by Ellen Davis and George Stumberg; older sons were played by Bob Matthiessen, Jesse Renfrow, and Robert Eddleman; Ricky Carr took the part of the smallest boy.

Serious themes are consistently the choice of the Senior Classes for their plays. The power of prayer or faith made a dramatic moment in "A Man Called Peter," this year's presentation.

May Day

"Chuckwagon Day" is here!! Dismissed early from sixth period, students flock to the Pony Field to observe the annual review of Jefferson color groups.

After the brief parade, prominent San Antonio businessmen and school organizations make awards to individuals in each group for outstanding achievement. The air fills with cries of joy as the band major, majorettes, and cheerleaders are announced.

A barbecue dinner in the Cafeteria precedes the Lasso Play, this year a comedy, "Pride and Prejudice." The play temporarily relieved tension in the audience, guests eagerly awaiting the announcement of Lasso officers for 1962-63.

"Gosh, Bev, will I ever get used to them?" Mary Lea Walters, Lasso Major for 1962-63, expresses doubts to ex-Major Beverly Davis as Beverly straps on the jingling spurs, trademark of high-ranking Lasso officers.

Sun Shines on Chuckwagon Fun

Tears of joy and disbelief roll down the cheeks of happy Betty Lou Wilkins as hugs from Patsy Moyer assure her of a future role as Mustang cheerleader.

Looping the silver chain and miniature baton around Kathy Weir's neck, outgoing majorette Carmen Davis congratulates Kathy on her promotion to band majorette.

Jefferson on Parade

Billowy blue parachutes poofed over starry-eyed "strangers in paradise." As officers of the classes of 1962 and 1963 were introduced, crowds drifted to the stands to get a better view of the elaborate "Shangri-La, Land of Dreams," theme of the Junior-senior Prom held in the Gym on May 12.

Dancers, Drummers, and Dramatists:
Jeffites Are Everything.

Mustang Band members and Lassos often take a siesta during Fiesta. Frank Pena and Judy Olafson, book-ends to Frank's

Resisting the amorous advances of Mr. Collins (Verner Shaw), Elizabeth Bennett (Lucy Crawford) practices a few football tactics she must have picked up from the Mustangs. "Pride and Prejudice," the Lasso Play, climaxed the activities of Cbuckwagon Day.

"Outstanding High School Journalist in Bexar County": that's Cy Luna, junior who proudly exhibits the trophy awarded him by the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS and NEWS. Cy received the award after only one and one-half years of journalism experience. This year Cy acted as top staff writer for a top newspaper—the DECLARATION also taking top honors from the EXPRESS and NEWS.

Ovations of

Recipe for a National Merit Finalist: plenty of food for thought; a dash of creativity; a pinch of play; a lot of readin' and writin'!

After scoring exceptionally high on qualifying tests in March, 1961, these seven Jeffites became National Merit semi-finalists. They moved up to the ranks of finalists by doing well on a second test, submitting evidence of general worthiness, and obtaining the recommendation of the school.

Arrangers, composers, conductors, and accomplished pianists, Robert Sheff and Chris Pappas have contributed greatly to the stature and prestige of an already-famous high-school Music Department.

Both boys received highly coveted plaques awarded by the National Society of Orchestras of America after the musical production, "Cavalcade of Melody." Following the presentation, the student audience expressed the appreciation they had felt for three years with a thunder of applause and a standing ovation.

*We await scholarships, diploma in

We stand tensely gripping our programs in the Municipal Auditorium basement waiting for the first strains of the processional. Some faces mirror sadness, others reflect eager anticipation. Inevitably, the line begins to move forward . . . up the ramp and down the aisle past loved ones, friends, and teachers. Incidental split-second impressions, flashing memories encompassing years of living, and the overwhelming realization of new responsibility overtake us now. We offer a prayer for the future; we listen to Commencement proceedings. Backstage we live one last moment as students of Thomas Jefferson High School; then into the "spotlight circle," looking out at a sea of faces, we hear our names and receive that time-honored scroll, symbol of 12 years of effort. Later, the excitement dies away, and we can only wonder what the future holds for us.

Yes, Robin, your years at Jefferson are over; the heartaches and joys you experienced and shared with your parents are memories for you now. But as you walked across the stage tonight, white diploma curled in your hand, you felt a familiar pride in the knowledge that the best years of your young life were spent as you attended Thomas Jefferson High School.

"Hi! We brought loads of food. Where can we unpack?" Patti Prather, Ricky Gummer, and Nancy Nixon eagerly greet their classmates upon arrival at the sophomore picnic in early spring.

More than a thousand of us crept timidly into the auditorium to be oriented early in September. We met school leaders, took a tour of the biggest school building we had ever seen, and went home scared but starry-eyed at the prospect of becoming Jeffites.

Our Get-acquainted Party in September gave us a chance to meet our class sponsor, Mrs. Evelyn Hanson, and many of our fellow sophomores. Singing, dancing, and skits by talented members of our class entertained us. Mr. Thomas Rust became a co-sponsor at mid-term. "We pass this way but once." This is the class motto we chose in December. The orchid is our class flower, and lavender and gold, our colors.

The annual sophomore dance in January was highlighted by the presentation of class officers and their dates. A fun-filled picnic in the spring completed our social calendar for the year.

In the midst of preparing sandwiches for the sophomore picnic, Denise Anthony sneaks in a coke break with Barbara Traylor and Judy Gillis. They admit eating almost as many sandwiches then as they packed for the picnic.

You might think the basket that class treasurers Kay Burney and Pat Shannon so gleefully guard contains food. Well, it doesn't! It's the Sophomore Class dues. They're the responsible type.

"Part of that apple is mine!" says Sharon Woldhagen as her dinner companions Phyllis Rose, Rosann Miller, and Clarence Daugherty fight off hunger pains while unloading their old-fashioned picnic basket. These four, like most others at the sophomore picnic, couldn't resist a snack before lunchtime.

Blossoms and Birdcages in Oriental

Soft hues of ming blue, an enchanted castle, and a fountain of youth all helped make the Junior-senior Prom a success. Plans for the prom began last summer. With the help of sponsors, Miss Florence Langford and Mr. Walter Helmers, preparations went on all year long.

Seventy-two juniors supported the Mustangs by membership in Lassos. Eight juniors lettered in football, fourteen in basketball, and twenty-six in track. Student Council claimed fourteen juniors, while forty-one were elected into the National Honor Society in the spring of the year.

The Junior Play, Life With Father, the Junior Picnic at Brackenridge Park, and the Christmas dance held in the Main Hall—all claimed a certain place in the hearts of those who attended. And so a school year of fun, work, excitement, joy and even sorrow officially closed May 30, 1962. But it left in its shadow a chain of memories for members of the Class of 1963.

Splendor Make Prom a Blooming Success

"More to the center."
 "Toward this way."
 "No, over this way."

Three Junior Class officers, Patty Edleman, Peggy Gates, and Bonnie Jones, have varied ideas as how the giant birdcage should be arranged for the Junior-senior Prom.

"Flowers! They'll be growing out my ears pretty soon." Martha Conerly, executive chairman of the prom, continues her work after making preparations since September.

Temptation is lurking. What will they do? Gail Rustin and Genie Martinez direct their thoughts toward more mischievous pursuits than filling the fountain. Kim Russell, the probable target, tries to trim one of the artificial trees used for the prom.

Presented the Junior Way

"Mother" leans happily on "Father's" shoulder as he confesses his love for her. George Stumberg and Ellen Davis

Juniors Enjoy a

Junior Hillbillies added color to the entertainment at the P-T.A. Talent Show. Paul Rutledge, Clyde Ross, and Burt Morris (with the spinning bass) played "Ghost Riders in the Sky" as an entry in the novelty division.

"First an untwirlable rope, now an unfitable boot!" laments Carol. Patiently listening to her gripes, Susan Schooley and Maureen Lubel recall days of trainee torture.

Have a heart! On Valentine's Day, hearts advertised "Life With Father," the Junior Play. Cast member Danny Galindo likes the idea.

Santa Claus Helmers added the appropriate touch to the Junior Christmas Dance in the Main Hall. Patty Edelman and Herby Lyman certainly believe in Santa, who doubles as class sponsor.

"What did you say, deer?" says Cheryl to ... Jerolyn Witt, Mike Norris, Cheryl Peden, and Bobby Moore took in the sights of Brackenridge Park during the Junior Picnic.

It's enough to strike terror in the stoutest heart—the horrors that lurk under the stadium seats at the Senior Carnival in the Gym. Leading the way through the spider patch are Tommy Murrah and Bobby Oefinger. Following close behind are Wayne Brown and Bill Hamilton.

Blue and silver are our class colors; the yellow rose, our class flower. "A Proud Past, A Golden Present, A Future of Promise" is our motto. As sophomores, three years ago, we chose these, when Tommy Murrah was class president.

Our second year found us concentrating on the Junior-senior Prom, with Donny Oefinger, class president, heading up our efforts. Miss Julia Oliphint began her second year as our sponsor but was joined by Mr. Lionel Gregory as co-sponsor at the end of the year. In the class play, "The Admirable Crichton," we did our dramatic best. Forty-one of us were initiated into the National Honor Society. Other activities were our Christmas Dance, "Silver Bells," and a picnic at Brackenridge Park. "An Enchanted Evening" at the Junior-senior Prom ended the year.

Our senior year was over before we knew it. Royal-blue robes hung in our closets and invitations announced our graduation to relatives and friends. Activities of these eventful months are now a matter of record, mirrored in the 1962 Monticello. We do indeed look forward to "A Future of Promise."

Leaders Play on Carnival Day

"'Mangey' Mangum in the brook, What are you putting on my hook?" chant Jana Russell and Lucy Crutsford.

Guns in the hands of these women could be dangerous. It's lucky that Connie Muecke and Helen Gregg haven't the slightest idea what to do with them.

Nothing on the football field ever made Donny Oefinger wince like the wet sponge flung from the hands of Kaylene Foerster at close range.

Lasso Twirling Makes Heads Spin

Foreign students visiting Jefferson discover that spinning a rope presents quite a problem, even to Lassos. Kay Haymaker finds their enthusiasm and gratitude compensation enough for spending all morning under the broiling sun.

Fountain of Punch, Fun for the Bunch

"I think there's a bug in my punch!" Dennis Rioux's wry remark provokes a burst of laughter from Ann Green, and even a sly smile from the graduate doll on the refreshment table.

Seniors and their dates enjoyed an evening in "Shangri-la" as guests of the Junior Class at the Junior-senior Prom May 12, in the Gym.

No Strangers in Jr.-sr. Prom Paradise

Long-Awaited

"Three minutes to the bell . . . Oh, why was this term theme due today . . .?" mutters Bernard Stoller—just before his pen ran out of ink. Then the bell rang—and he had to retrieve his research cards, in numerical order, from the floor.

Graduation Brings Tense Anticipation

"Now that we've had our two free cokes at El Antonio, we'd better go home and roll up our hair for the barbecue tonight."

"Stand quietly—wait for your cue!" Class Day Assembly was presented for the purpose of honoring outstanding class members.

The Last

Flags flew for the Class of '62 as they danced until 10 to end Class Day festivities. A barbecue preceded the informal celebration at La Villita.

And after the Senior Class Day Assembly, the class of '62 received a gift from the sponsors—a six-page booklet of instructions and a lengthy lecture.

Lana

Hours Flew for the Class of '62

Grab your partner, Do-si-do. Here is where the diploma will go.

"My hair's not brushed; can't find my shoes—and now this! Little brother won't give back the mortar board. Oh, well, I've got three whole minutes to get ready. Now, if I can only remove the lollipop sticking on my robe." (Ed. note: Nenita Acosta did graduate, in spite of Lil Brother "Beaver.")

"Are you sure this is right?" asks Phyllis Conner as she and George Colvin practice the procedure for receiving the diploma in the Municipal Auditorium basement just before the beginning of the processional march.

Red and blue of Jefferson High under the lights of Alamo Stadium were never so thrilling as the sight of 616 solemn seniors robed in traditional royal blue under the blazing lights of the Municipal Auditorium.

'And Now We Take Our First Step'

Midnight supper of scrambled eggs and sausage was the first meal for ex-Jeffites who had graduated two hours before. The Parent-Teachers Association sponsored the 11 p.m. to 3 a.m. semi-formal party at El Antonio.

TO LIFE
Lyn Siegel
(Official Class Poem)

Out of the hills of "youth" we walk
Into the valley that is called "Life"
And all that we have done is forgotten by the mass—
By the loud, cheering voices that stay behind
Only a few will recognize the footprints we leave when we walk away.
Winds sweep the valley; it rains,
The sun shines, grass grows, and
All of life blossoms and flowers,
Protected by the hills we've left behind—our youth.
And all that we have done echoes after us—
So that we may never forget as we turn our faces toward the new.
All of our experiences are Sealed into the hills that surround us as we go forward to make new memories . . .

As out of the hills of youth we walk—
Into the valley that is called "Life"
And now we turn our glances back
To review what we have done.
We look into the past and find
Our youth that has almost left us.
What happy times we had—
What worries, what quarrels,
What laughter and tears—
Senseless rush and hollow fears
Rarely time to eat, sleep, or even think.

And now we look into a mirror
At what we are today.
Flushing, bubbling over with anticipation;
We glow with pride and try to hide
Tears of sorrow for what we Must lose, when we glance back.
And now we look to the future.
Now our eyes sparkle, our hearts beat faster,
And we have to catch our breath
Trying to keep up with our imagination.
We let our two visions, past and present,
Blend together while we stand on the threshold of something new.
And now we take our first step!

EACH HAS SPOKEN, a literary magazine, is a project of the English Honor Society. Formed in 1960 for outstanding juniors and seniors, the group explores the fields of grammar, creative writing, and good literature.

Paper-back books appropriate for a high school reading program were sold by Society members in the Main Hall this year to accommodate students needing such books.

Membership is limited to students having at least a "B" average and in the upper 5 per cent of their English classes.

Mrs. Cathryn Moore, member of the English Department, is sponsor.

Quill and Scroll Includes Mag Editors

Mr. Al Anderson, news editor of WOAI-TV, ponders the question before replying to Judy Adamson, while other members wait with interest. Mr. Anderson was a guest speaker at the night initiation of QUILL AND SCROLL members in the Little Theatre, November 15.

"You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." This is the motto of the Quill and Scroll, international high school honor society for students. Staff members of the MONTICELLO, DECLARATION, and EACH HAS SPOKEN who are juniors or seniors, maintain a "B" average, and show outstanding journalistic ability are eligible for membership. New members are elected twice a year, in March and in June. Parents, faculty, and guest speakers attend night initiations.

Social events of this year included a Christmas social at the ranch of Pat Patterson and a money-raising project, a party for the Journalism Department, at which the guests had to pay to leave. The members also initiated the new members of the Sam Houston High School Quill and Scroll club in February.

Mrs. Alma Petrich is the sponsor of the club.

*Does Q and S stand for Quizzical and Sleepy-headed? From the expressions on the panel members' faces, one might think so. Future personalities of the stage, screen, radio and television may now be Masque and Gavel members. Applicants for membership must have at least a "C" average and have proved his interest in drama either in school or out.

Masque and Gavel recognizes student achievements in the fields of speech and drama and hopes to promote a good relationship between the high school and the community.

A Wonderful World of Make-believe

"Don't you think he needs a few more wrinkles?" suggests Steve Baum as Peggy Gates prepares to make up Carl Lee for his stage performance. This art is another part of the training received by drama students.

From sophomore orientation in August to elections in April, Jefferson's Student Council keeps moving.

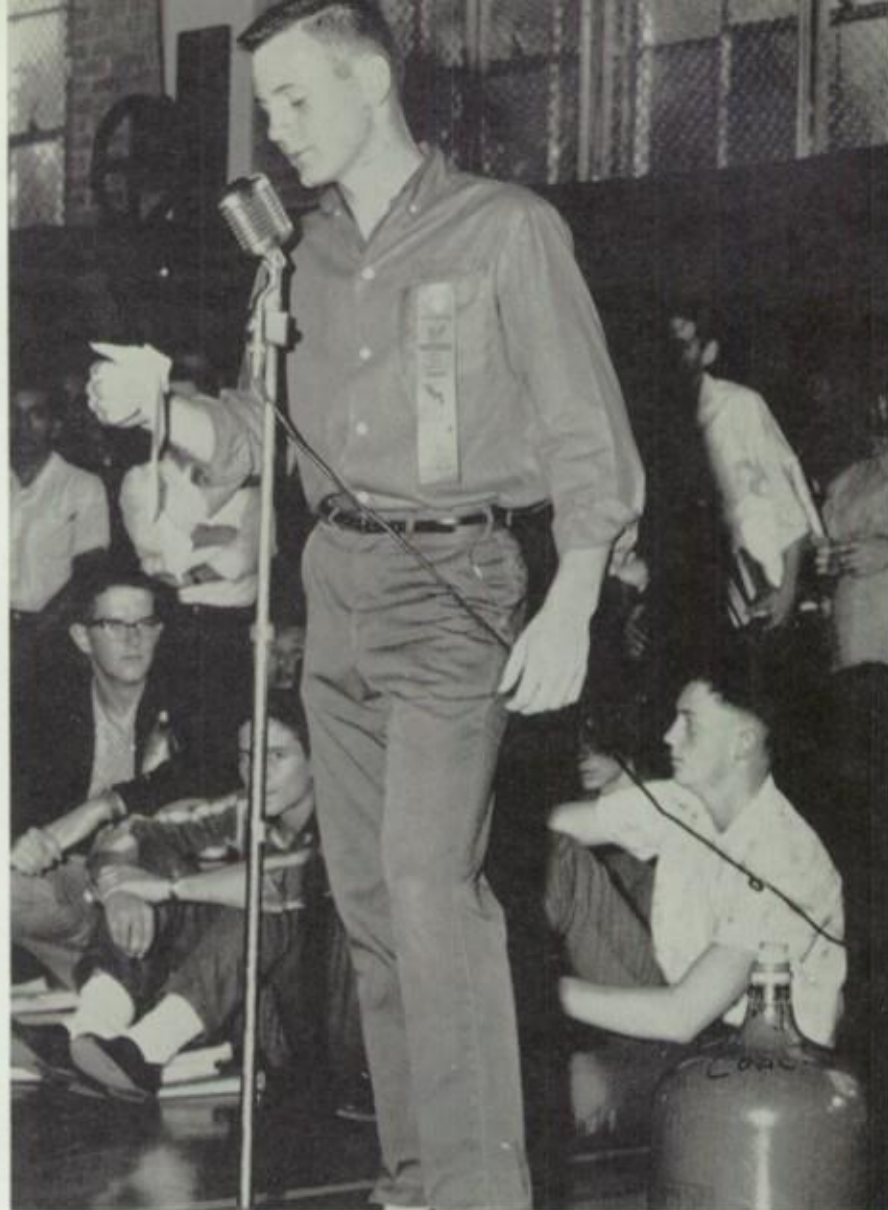

As secretary of the Texas Association of Student Councils, Jefferson hosted 2500 delegates to this year's convention in March.

Members sell pom-poms; book covers; pencils; paper; notebooks; subscriptions to the yearbook, newspaper, and literary magazine; and parking permits. Publication of student directories is also a Student Council project.

Sponsorship ranges from pep rallies to the morning prayer. Teacher Appreciation Week in March is another Student Council idea.

Their Snowman's Ball is the social highlight of the winter, their victory dances arouse school spirit, and their picnic in May rounds out the school year.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Taliaferro is the Council sponsor for her third year.

Gary Klasing, Patsy Moyer, and other Student Council members are busily filling folders with bookcovers, name tags, meal tickets, and schedules for delegates to the T.A.S.C. convention held in March. The convention climaxed seven months of planning and hard work by the Student Council.

"Mustangs, we've just received another telegram, this one from . . ." To fill the red spirit jug even fuller, Prexy Ken grabs the mike to give the good-luck word to the Mustangs.

Councilors Chart Code of Conduct

"Sh-h-h-h-h, don't be so loud!"

"Pick up that paper, please."

That's the way a library councilor often sounds on duty.

Early in September, fellow library students elect 48 juniors and seniors with a "C" or above average to the Library Council. Their main duties are to keep the library quiet and orderly and to help maintain the good repair of books and magazines.

After taking an oath of service at the Student Council Assembly for school leaders, members hold meetings during the second advisory period every other Thursday.

The sponsor is Mrs. Lynda McCutcheon, head of the library staff.

"Students should be in their assigned seats when the tardy bell begins to ring," reads Mike Kelly. The necessity of emphasizing library regulations has given Mike, Dolores Lazarie, and other councilors an opportunity to use the new amplification equipment of the Library, gift of the Class of '62.

"Have a suggestion?" chimes in Buddy Pulley at a meeting of the Library Executive Board, under the direction of David Sims and Mrs. Lynda McCutcheon. This board of ten members meets each week to discuss policy and decide on changes the Council might wish to make.

This Club Has a Heart

The heart is a symbol of the true feeling Shakespeare members have for each other. Every year since 1932 members join together to form a heart and sing the Shakespeare song at the annual Sweethearts' Ball.

A Non-sonnet for Shakespeare

The style show began a long year to remember,
"That Classic Look" showed styles from June through December.

The Sweetheart Ball was planned and presented,
"A Treasure of Memories" for all who attended.

At 6 A.M. a surprise for all,
For the kidnap breakfast was a ball.

A picnic with fun and food galore,
Could any person ask for more?

The year closed with a banquet and tears,
For the seniors were leaving after three wonderful years.

The Shakes and their roses will always be
A truly great part of a memory.

Not-so-eagerly awaiting their turn to sing the club song backwards are initiates Maureen Lubel and Susan Drattlo. Even though they may not be called on to recite, they are determined to be well prepared.

What a business before pleasure! President Dolores Lazarie takes care of the business of modeling at the Shakespeare Style Show in November before enjoying the pleasure of his company at the Sweetheart Ball in February. That's Kent Kottler with her in "a flower-decked" swing, one of the romantic props in "The Treasure of Memories."

"J" is for Jefferson, "J" is for Jaspers, but in this case "J" is for joy. New and happy president is Angelina Dalmolin as she accepts responsibility for Jasper functions for the coming year. Mrs. Goerner pins the yellow mum on a proud new president.

Jaspers Are Jeff's 'Jewels'

Girls in the Jasper Club are "Jewels," not only because of their many-faceted activities, but also because their club is named for a semi-precious stone. Club colors are blue and gold and are featured at dances, socials, and outings. The members, the smallest number of any social club, feel that their chances for knowing and appreciating each other are greater than in a larger club.

Dances and banquets make up the social activities.

Mrs. Julia Goerner sponsors this social club.

"The entrance to Thomas Jefferson's home is displayed on the M.J.R. pin. The two pillars indicate strength, and the stairs and door lead to the future. Above the entrance is a star representing a guiding light, and in the middle of the star is a pearl for purity."

This quotation, explaining the M.J.R. pin, is a familiar sound at any Martha Jefferson Randolph Society initiation. The dinner dance at Oak Hills Country Club in May, the Mother-daughter Tea, and the M.J.R. play are other functions of this social organization. The main purpose of the club is expressed in its motto—"Lasting friendship through sisterhood."

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Taliaferro sponsors M.J.R.

Skeltons and Senators

The Martha Skelton Literary Society, organized in 1932 by its sponsor Mrs. Theresa Hicks, is named for Thomas Jefferson's beloved wife Martha. The Skelton Club pin, depicting a wolf's head, is taken from Martha Skelton's family crest. Requirements for entrance are a "B" average with no grade lower than a "C", a majority of the votes of the members, and approval of the sponsor.

Activities this year included candlelight initiation ceremonies in the fall and early spring; a closed dance in the Main Hall with their brother club, the Senate; and a breakfast at Lackland Officer's Club during the Christmas holidays.

Annual activities enjoyed by the Skeltons are the Senate-Skelton spring formal, a Tamalada given by Senate, and a luncheon honoring senior members at the Peraux Room in the St. Anthony Hotel.

Evidence of the sponsor's and members' interest in Jeff shows itself in the profusion of seasonal blossoms in their patio at the west front of the building.

"A Stairway to the Stars . . ." Skeltons and Senators went into orbit with elaborate decorations on a theme of outer space. Margaret Moore, Skelton president, and Dan Sharpe, Senate president, descend the "Stairway" in an atmosphere of blue lights and soft music.

Founded in 1953, the Candid Camera Club takes pictures for publications and other clubs and organizations. Membership is open to any student wishing to further his skill in taking, processing, and printing pictures. During meetings, every first and third Monday in room 128, members inspect and criticize their own pictures. They have special programs demonstrating the art of making good pictures from exposure to printing. Portrait sessions allow the members to try their theories and judge their progress. Money from the sale of their prints increases the club's treasury and is used to purchase improved equipment and supplies. Mr. Victor Weiss is the sponsor.

Lights OK, mike open, curtain up, all at the right times—the stage is set for another assembly thanks to the countless hours of work performed by the stage crew. Frank Knapick, Bill Jackson, Charles Clanton, and Louis Pisano see that all goes well backstage.

Catwalk, flats, flys, babyspots, and legs are words familiar to the boys who work behind the scenes during Jefferson productions. Backstage helpers organized a club known as the "Spotlighters" in 1954. In appreciation for their work, the members of this club are invited to all parties given by the casts.

Sponsoring this organization is Miss Jean Longwith.

Repairing furniture is another job for Spotlighters. Don Knight, Jimmy Mudd, Charlie Herrick, and Newton Evans prepare for the Senior Play.

"Back to work, boys. There's no time to rest," says Miss Jean Longwith. Ronald Reaves, Louis Gaitan, Mike Smith, Ronnie Burns, and Jim Gildhart have to see that Jefferson productions are "at the ready."

Club officers leave aspirin, Band-Aids, and Mercurochrome at home as they enjoy an evening at the home of Leota Duffey. Fall initiation gave new and old members a chance to become acquainted.

This is the motto of the Future Nurses of America, founded at Jefferson as part of Bi-Phy-Chem. In 1957 it became a separate club, affiliated with the Texas Association of Future Nurses.

Students interested in a career of nursing are welcome to join the club, the purpose of which is to help fill the urgent need for nurses and to interest other students in personal health and hygiene.

Activities stem from films, field trips to hospitals, discussions, and speakers, as well as regular meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of every month.

Inky fingers, smudged papers, and mistakes in typing and dictation are handicaps secretaries have to overcome. Future Business Leaders of America help members to overcome these handicaps so as to become better business leaders. To promote a better understanding of the business world, functions of the year include visits to the U.S.A.A. building and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Held on the second and fourth Mondays, F.B.L.A. meetings feature guest speakers. Some have been representatives from the National Secretary Association, Ben Shaw Modeling Studio, and the Professional Women's Club.

One of the three vocational clubs at Jefferson, F.B.L.A. was granted a charter in 1953 to perform as a member of the National Organization of F.B.L.A. Members must have a "C" grade average or better and must be enrolled in a commercial class at Jefferson.

F.B.L.A. is sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Younger.

"Just think—some day I'll be operating an IBM machine like that," marveled F.B.L.A. members on a tour of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in December.

How Does a Teacher Get That Way?

From the desk of: Mrs. Eleanor Peterson

MEMO:

Convention: Discuss plans for the State Convention on February 16 in Austin.

Address new members: Impress upon them their responsibility to carry on the good name of the largest interest club in Jefferson.

Discuss banquet: At the end of the year Mr. T. Guy Rogers, former Jefferson principal, gives a $100 scholarship to the most deserving F.T.A. senior.

Note: Remember to participate in Teacher Appreciation Week.

E. P.

"It's quite obvious that a career of teaching is right for you," says guidance counselor Mrs. Pearl Doolittle. Helen Rizk and Phyllis Conner are seeking an early start in planning for college courses leading to a degree in education.

Teachers Look to Future With F.T.A.

Look what future teachers have in store! Once a year everyone is very, very nice to teachers for a whole week. This day is the Student Council's day to show the teachers how everyone appreciates them all year. At the tea Mrs. Salomay Harrison and Mr. Lewis Hutchinson are escorted by Kathy English, Gail Cotton and David Peck. Aren't teachers great!!!

Gift wrapping, graceful entertaining, and the latest fashions are of interest to every girl, but the Homemaking Club makes a special study of them. Girls interested in learning to decorate and entertain join Mrs. Lou Pyka and Mrs. Edna Willingham every second and fourth Wednesday to share the excitement of home-making.

Each member has a chance to prepare refreshments and to make decorations carrying out an original holiday theme.

"Did you know that sauerkraut originated in Japan?" German Club members don't always study, but they have fun. Frank Strasheim, Bill Walker, Phil Adams, and Peggy Maloney enjoy an afternoon of sun and fun on the Jefferson campus after the Club meeting.

Der Deutschen Studentenklub, (the German Club to us), was organized for students interested in learning about German culture. The club is affiliated with local and state chapters of the Texas Association of German students.

Although students do not have to be taking German, it is required that they know something of the language. The club meets every first and third Wednesday.

This club, which has a national affiliation with art clubs all over the United States, was formed in 1941 by Miss Ruby Dugosh. Its main objective is to further the interest of its members in some field of creative art. It helps stimulate the artistic and culture interest of its members throughout the year by such planned activities as trips to art exhibits, showings of original works, and sketching tours to the beautiful San Antonio parks.

Seventy voices of the A Cappella Choir, bound together by their mutual love for music, provide listeners with compositions of a serious, religious, or semi-classical nature. Members are boys and girls outstanding in the field of vocal music, personally selected to sing in this choir by their director, Mr. Raymond Moses. Organized in 1946, the choir upholds Jefferson's reputation for superior music from vocal groups. They perform at school assemblies and at events throughout the state.

A Cappella Choir members add their voices to the strings and woodwinds of the San Antonio Youth Symphony Concert given in January in the Jefferson Auditorium. Proceeds helped finance the trip to Dallas for the All-state Chorus Concert.

"Star-studded!"

That's the adjective applied to the Jefferson Orchestra by Mr. Lewis Doll, director of music in the San Antonio Independent School District.

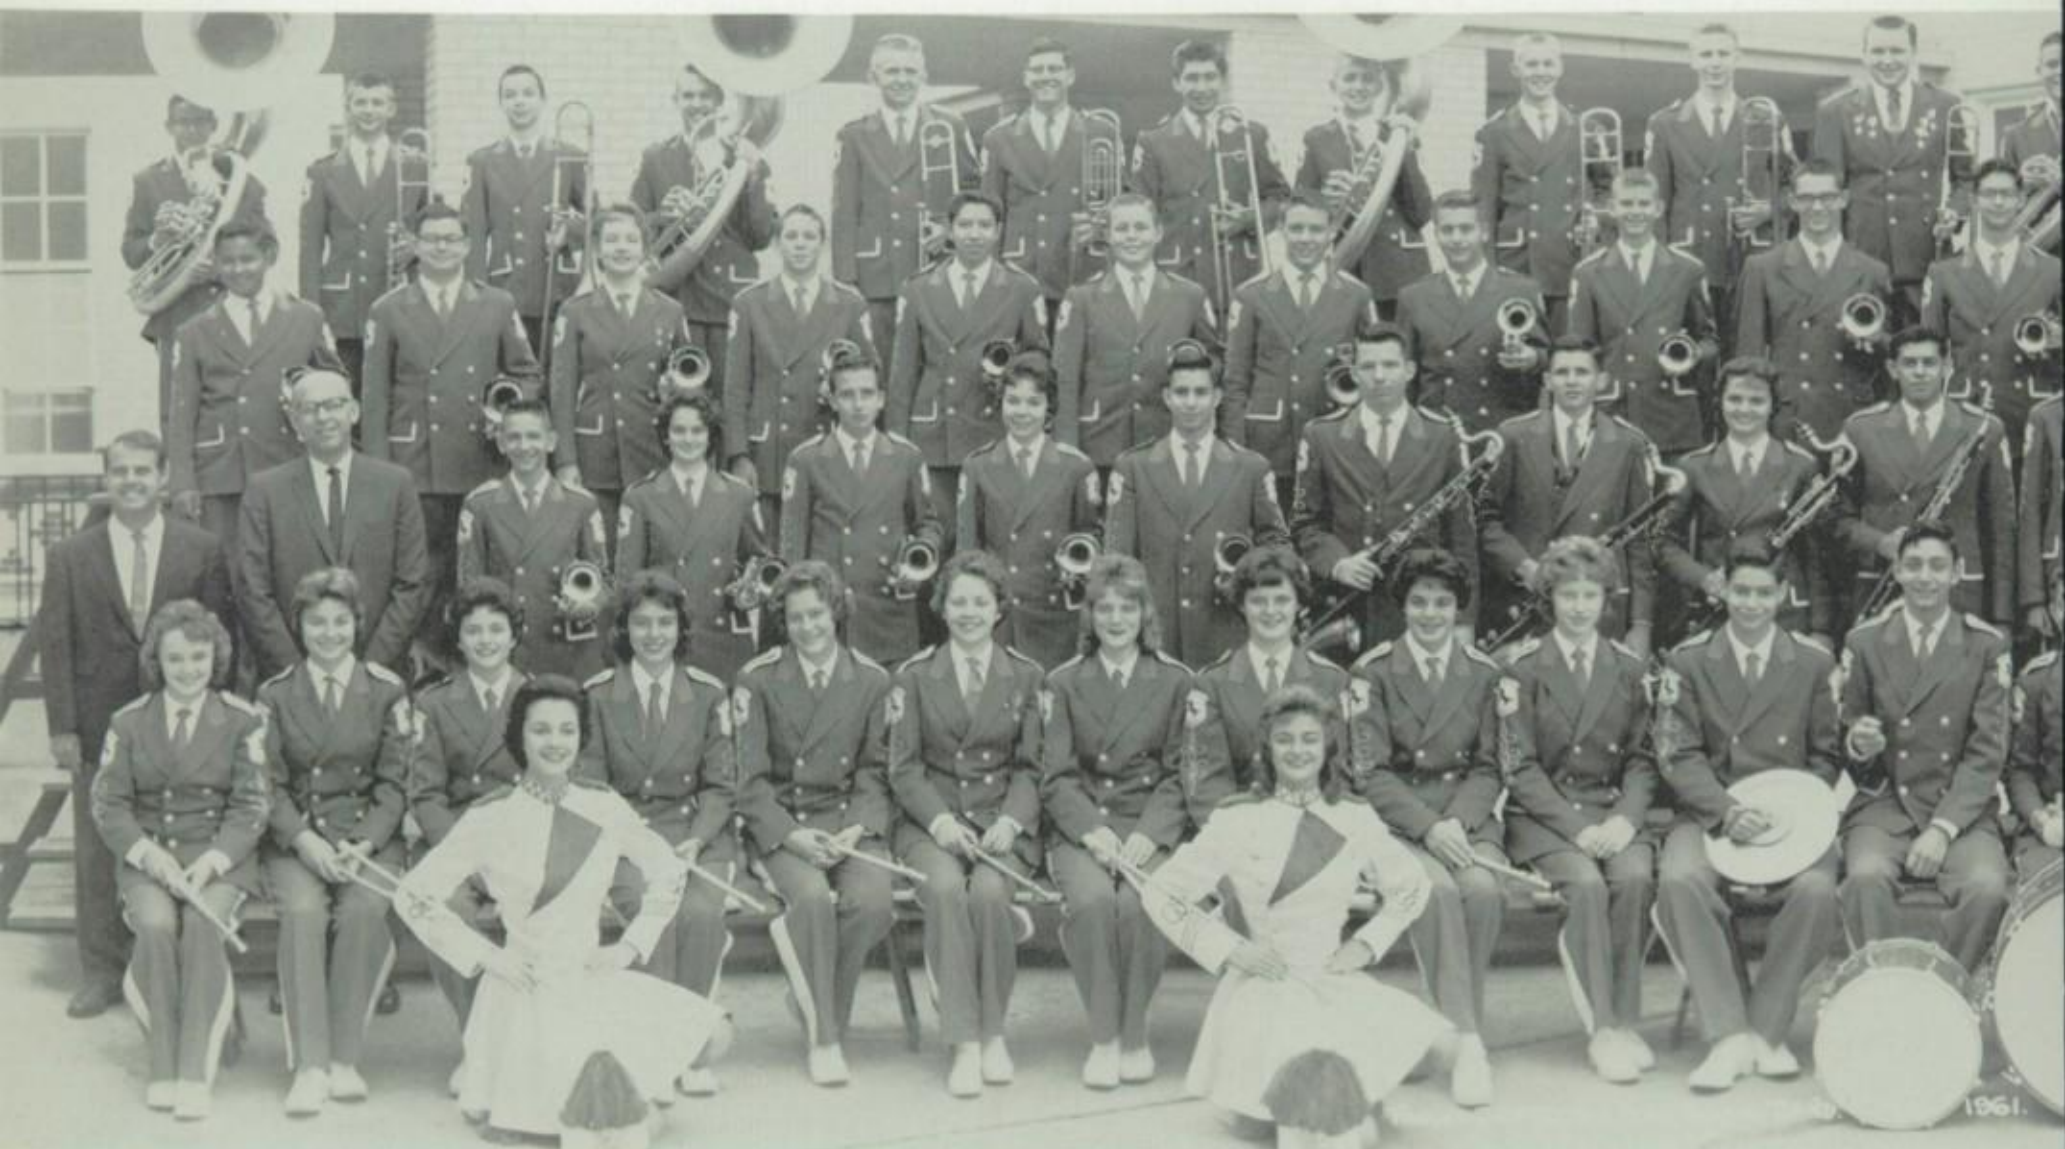

Of the 63 members, comprising one of the largest high school orchestras in Texas, 11 placed in All-state Orchestra and 31 belong to the San Antonio Youth Symphony, named Honor Orchestra of the year by the Texas Musical Educators' Association. Several of these talented musicians have received music scholarships and special awards.

During the course of the year, the Orchestra has played for the Fredericksburg Music Club, school assemblies, and various civic functions, including Lions and Optimist banquets.

"The success of the Orchestra is a result of broad interest and professional background, both in training and in experience, and a dedication to youth and fine music," states Mr. Doll in paying tribute to Mr. Raymond Moses, Orchestra director.

Standing ovations by the student body on a number of occasions reflect the popularity of this group with fellow students.

The Mustang fight song blares from the bleachers as Band members watch their team hobble the Heights Mules. Mrs. Aubrey Armstrong, president of the Band Parents Association, sits near the director's stand, enthusiastic as always about Band activities.

Precision marching, spirited playing, and skillful interpretations of the many moods of band music typify the Mustang Band in the stadium and on the concert stage. Colorful uniforms of red, white, and blue set the mood for school spirit during half times, as Band members form patterns on the football field. Competing for state honors, the Band won First Division in Interscholastic League for concert and inspection. Also 54 first places went to members in solo and ensemble contests. For student-conducting, Gary Klasing won first and Rick Dillard second. Marion Means won the John Philip Sousa Band Award for outstanding achievements and interest in instrumental music. Ronny Marquette went to state for drum competition. Gene Smith and Jerry Barnett completed area honors. Represented in All-district were Gilbert Teniente, Paul Rutledge, Bruce Omura, and Rick Dillard.

Mustang Band marched in the Rodeo and Battle of Flowers parades. Activities of the year included the Mexican Supper, presentation of the Spring Concert, the Senior Banquet, a skating party, and the Band picnic.

Mr. Richard Kole is director and sponsor of the Mustang Band.

"V-V for Victory"

That was the story for all Band members who took the Austin trip to see the Mustangs make a hit. Paying their own way, Band members attended the three out-of-town football games.

With the dream of wearing the vivid red, blue, and white Mustang Band uniforms, Pony and Colt bands work to increase their musical abilities for a position in the First Division band. Mr. Richard Kole, director, gives lessons at regular class periods to those trying to meet the requirements of spring tryouts for the Mustang Band.

Pony Band members fill in for absentees and vacancies in the Mustang Band. They also participate in Mustang Band social activities.

Colt Band beginning students learn the technique and fundamentals of music.

Mrs. Ermine Armstrong, president of the Band Parents' Association, is an assistant to Mr. Kole. She comes every day to help him collect and issue "A" Band uniforms, collect bus fares and instrument insurance fees. She handles all Band correspondence. For this she receives no pay but the gratitude of all the Band members.

Ponies and Colts Are on the Way Up

"Gee! Being Mustangs must be fun," agree George Lopez and Josephine Guerra, as they enjoy seeing themselves in the red, white, and blue of the Mustang Band uniforms. Spring tryouts will determine whether they'll be in the Mustang Band next year.

"Howdy, you all!". Tom Jones gives a great welcome to new Jeffites at the Get-acquainted Dance. Wranglers sponsor this annual event where everyone has fun getting to know everyone else.

"Yipee!!!" yell the "cowpokes." "Quiet!!" yells the deputy and blows his whistle. Along comes the bounty hunter, collects the dues, and the foreman bangs his gavel and begins the round-up.

When you enter Wrangler territory, you find the cowpokes busy with their chores. Helping teachers during registration, showing films for classes and clubs, operating the Pony scoreboard on the football practice field, and keeping the golf greens on the campus well trimmed and rolled are many of the services rendered by this well-bred organization.

Wranglers sponsor the annual Get-acquainted Dance at the beginning of the year.

Sponsors are Mr. Maurice Turner and Mr. Harold Tillman.

Activities of the Lassos don't stop at cheering football games, pep rallies, and boosting school spirit. One Saturday in the early fall Lasso girls extended Jefferson's hospitality to members of the armed forces from all over the world stationed at Lackland Air Force Base.

Waving pom-poms from the bleachers or twirling ropes during early morning practice, Lassos set the pace for school spirit. Vibrant red, white, and blue uniforms catch the spotlight during halftimes as the Lassos perform on the football fields. New Lassos are chosen on the basis of recommendation by the faculty, school attendance, and dependability. Requirements also include at least a "C" average for juniors and a "B" average with no failing grades for sophomores.

Girl Cadets Go Marching Along

Girls in uniforms of vibrant blue trimmed in red are known as the Girls' Cadet Corps. They present a Veterans Day Assembly, sponsor a banking program for students, and act as a cheering squad at football and basketball games. Some of their members sponsor R.O.T.C. companies, keeping their records and marching with them on review day. Before parades and reviews, G.C.C.'s practice at 7:30 A. M. They sponsor a Mother-daughter luncheon in February and the Military Ball in May when G.C.C. ranks are bestowed upon the new members of this military group.

Members must have good scholastic standings, good attendance records, and the approval of the faculty.

Miss Bess McIntyre is their sponsor.

Noonday shadows of the G.C.C.'s march in strict ranks with their live counterparts. Members of this organization spend long summer hours perfecting military drills for the coming year.

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new." Debbie Cunningham is now 1962-63 colonel of Girls' Cadet Corps. Col. Ann Jennings, an ex-colonel for the past few minutes, looks on wistfully as Debbie goes through the saber line with new R.O.T.C. Col. Phil Adams. This is the beginning and the end for the old regime.

Three first-place trophies came back with the Jefferson Rifle Team from Arlington State College High School Rifle Competition in March. The six-man squad outshot a field of 48 other R.O.T.C. and N.D.C.C. units in the five-state Fourth Army area. Scoring 941 hits out of a possible score of 1000, the team finished two shots ahead of Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, the defending champions. Lynn Carpenter and Frederick Wiegand won scoring crowns in individual competition. This is the first time any San Antonio school has won the tournament. Returning to the team next year will be Robert Gragg, Frederick Wiegand, and Phil Freeman.

If you know what a fourragere is, you'll be able to distinguish the First Drill Team from the Second. Red and blue braided cords decorate the left shoulders of the First Drill Team, while blue distinguishes the Second. They participate in parades, both in and out of town. The First Drill Team was the only color group to represent Jefferson in the Fiesta Flambeau Parade.

Both the First and Second Drill Teams usher for programs at the Municipal Auditorium.

High rating and honors received by the Jefferson R.O.T.C. result from cooperation of all the men in the brigade, from private to colonel. Leadership, honor, and dependability are qualities stressed by the corps. Training received while in this organization helps prepare the cadet for his later service career.

Four companies constitute the Jefferson Reserve Officers Training Corps. First and Second Battle groups, Color Guard, Brigade Staff, First and Second Drill teams, and the Rifle Team are composed of boys from these companies.

Revenue from a dance for R.O.T.C. parents and patrons paid the Drill Team's transportation to Laredo for participation in competition and the George Washington Birthday Parade. Payment for painting the armory is another parents' project. The "Cadet," a 48-page yearbook of the Corps' activities, was the second annual publication of this type put out by the 205 Corps members and their parents.

That hieroglyphic means that a double page layout, written copy, an activity picture, or an ad page has the final approval of the many, many people involved in the printing of every page of the MONTICELLO. The section editors, the assistants, copy writers, photographers, and finally the editor-in-chief have rewritten copy and remade pictures until the record of the school year is as nearly perfect as they can make it. Then comes Mrs. Petrich's OK which means that the copy can go to the publisher. Meantime, back in the business office, the manager and his assistants plan subscription campaigns, sell advertising, collect and keep records of the thousands of dollars involved in publishing the MONTICELLO. One result to be hoped for is the continued enthusiastic acceptance of the yearbook, distributed during the summer to allow for full coverage of a year at Jefferson. A secondary consideration is the opinion of the critical services of leading universities who in past years, have given top awards to the MONTICELLO.

JEFFERSON—42

MacARTHUR—6

Northeast Field: October 6—Jefferson opened its 1961 District 15-A AAAA football season with a 42-6 victory over the MacArthur Brahmas. Tom Nolen hit the paydirt for Jeff's first touchdown. From then on the Mustangs scored in every quarter. Quarterback Donny Oefinger raced 39 yards, tallying a TD. He passed to End Larry Barnebey for another. Jimmy Jones dashed up the middle from the 8, adding another touchdown. Bobby Lee, John Luna, Jimmy Jones, and Donny Oefinger made points after touchdowns. Fullback Phil Harris carried the ball for 2 TD's and picked up 197 yards on 19 carries.

Jeff Cages Spirited Bears

Eluding the Edison Bear trap, Larry Barnebey takes a pass from Phil Harris to make the winning touchdown.

EDISON—7

Alamo Stadium: October 27—The Mustangs came closer to the District 15-AAAA championship by squeezing past a pack of fired-up Bears by a touchdown. Jeff fumbled on their 24, and Edison took advantage of the miscue to score. The 2nd quarter saw all the scoring for Jeff. Phil Harris returned an Edison punt 79 yards for a touchdown after getting a key block from Jimmy Jones. Late in the same quarter Donny Oefinger intercepted an Edison pass on the 42 and returned it to the 15. Four plays later Harris threw a short running pass that Larry Barnebey nabbed in the end zone. Bobby Lee converted after both touchdowns.

JEFFERSON—34      ALAMO HEIGHTS—0

Alamo Stadium: November 4—The Mustangs corralled the Alamo Heights Mules for their 3rd straight district victory, stampeding the Mules by a score of 34-0. This was Heights 12th consecutive loss to the Hosses. Both Harris and Nolen ripped through the Heights line for touchdowns and Lee scampered around left end for another tally. Lee, the golden-toe boy, booted 4 out of 5 extra points. The stubborn Jeff defense led by Larry Barnebey, Tom Nobis, and Tom Murrah wouldn't let the Mules romp into scoring range.

HARLANDALE—0

Harlandale Stadium: November 10—Leading only 7-0 at the half, the Jefferson Mustangs ignited for 4 touchdowns in the last 2 periods to break the Harlandale Indians, 34-0. Phil Harris scored the only touchdown of the 1st half on an 81-yard return of the opening kickoff. Tom Nolen, Jimmy Jones, and Lemuel Cook joined Harris in the last-half scoring parade. The Indians threatened Jeff's goal only twice, and the bruising Mustang line play kept the potent Redskins scoreless. Bobby Lee converted on 4 out of 5 points after touchdowns. Harris also led the team in rushing with 88 yards in 11 carries, and scored 2 touchdowns.

Tom Nolen scatters the Tribe and charges on to the goal line for 6 more points against the Harlandale Indians.

Bobby Lee fights to the last for more yardage as a Harlandale Indian tackles him from behind, preventing a Jeff touchdown.

Wise Owls Learn Lesson

After some deft ball handling, Gene Mangum slides around end, with the Highlands Owls flying in pursuit.

HIGHLANDS—0

Alamo Stadium: November 18—"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y" echoed throughout the stadium as the Mighty Mustangs sent the Highlands Owls screeching back to tree tops. The district title was Coach Pat Shannon's 6th victory out of 7 teams he has coached since coming to Jefferson.

Jeff regulars played only 1 series of downs after the half before the reserves took over. Hardy Sides' 21-yard run paved the way for Gene Mangum's touchdown. Jefferson's tough defense shown by David Sims and Charles Embrey held the Owls to only 3 first downs.

Statistics	Jeff	Highlands
First downs	24	3
Rushing yards	214	55

Flying Eagles Grounded

Tom Nolen hits Eagle Fernando Galan as Jeff linemen Dick Cunningham, David Sims, and George Gaiser hustle in pursuit.

BRACKENRIDGE—7

Alamo Stadium: November 24—Jefferson advanced into state playoffs by mauling the Brackenridge Eagles 41-7. Brackenridge, with high spirits and seeking revenge, cried, "The South will rise again!" The small but scrappy Eagles found the going too tough. Warren McVea, their leading ball carrier, was completely bottled up by the rugged Ponies. Phil Harris was the ground gainer for Jeff with 70 yards gained on 2 carries. The methodical Mustangs racked up a quick touchdown after taking the opening kick off on their own 19-yard line. Donny Oefinger started the scoring by making the first 2 TD's; Jimmy Jones, Bobby Lee, Tom Nolen, and Lemuel Cook tallied the remaining touchdowns.

JEFFERSON—7

RAY—26

Corpus Christi: December 2—Using an alert defense and taking advantage of every opportunity, the W. B. Ray Texans clipped the Mighty Mustangs 26-7 in quarter-final competition. Pass interceptions spelled tragedy for the Mustangs. The Texans held a 4-touchdown lead when the 1st half ended. In the 2nd half the Hosses had several drives halted and did not score until the 4th period. Donny Oefinger hit Tom Nobis with a 10-yard scoring pass. The Mustang defense kept the potent Texan offense well in check. Phil Harris led the team in rushing with 64 yards in 13 carries.

Edison

Alamo Stadium Gym: January 8—

Making the 1st basket of the game did not help pave the way for a Mustang victory over Edison. Chances diminished with each Bear loop and the game ended 67-52. Trailing at the end of the 1st half 35-27, the Hosses couldn't cut the lead but stayed close until the Bruins pulled away in the 3rd quarter. High scorer for Jeff was Bruce Miller with 13 points.

Harlandale

Alamo Stadium Gym: January 5—

Jefferson's roundball association opened its District 15-AAAA campaign with the Harlandale Indians. Too powerful for the Mustangs, the Indians scalped the home team 65 to 43 behind a balanced scoring attack led by Dickie Franz. The Mustangs played well until the Redskins hit the warpath and took control later in the game. Bruce Miller set the scoring for the Mustangs with 10 points, followed closely by Gary Stroth with 8.

As Bruce Miller makes a lay-up, Bear David Sampsell is poised for the rebound.

MacArthur

62-56

MacArthur Gym: January 12—

The Mustangs took the MacArthur Brahmas out to pasture with a 62-56 victory. A smooth combination of Bruce Miller and Gary Stroth proved to be too much for the Brahmas to cope with. Leading 28-23 at the half, the Hosses were never threatened. Miller ended the game with 31 points, and Stroth finished with 15.

Galloping Mustang, Phil Harris, slides past a Brahma on his way to a score.

Highlands

51-67

Alamo Stadium Gym: January 15—

Hot shooting in the 2nd half by Richard Englebert and Dale Fincke helped Highlands Owls trip the Mustangs 67 to 51. Using a solid defense, the Hosses held a 31-26 lead at the end of the 1st half. Gary Stroth and Bruce Miller tallied 18 and 17 points to keep the Mustangs in the game until mid-way of the 3rd quarter. It was a heart-breaking defeat for the hard-playing Ponies.

Astonished King Hall looks for an opening as he's surrounded by a flock of Owls.

Soaring to "Heights," Bobby Goss makes 2 more for the Mustangs.

Alamo Heights

59-53

Alamo Stadium Gym: January 19—
Jefferson cleared the Alamo Heights hurdle with a 59-53 triumph. With an 8-point lead at half-time, the Mustangs returned to the hardwood to dominate the final half and wrap up the game. Bruce Miller, the Mustang leading scorer, tossed 18 points while Gary Stroth and Roland Chankin had 13 points each.

Bobby Goss fires a jump shot toward the hoop in hopes of cutting Edison's lead.

Edison

53-67

Alamo Stadium Gym: January 8—
An explosion of baskets by Edison in the 2nd quarter erased a temporary Jeff lead, as the Bears edged the Mustangs 67-53. The end of the 1st half found the Bears leading 35-29. The Hosses fought back in the 3rd quarter to close the gap to 2 points but could not get any nearer. High man for the Ponies was Gary Stroth with 15 points.

Alamo Heights

61-48

Alamo Stadium Gym: February 2—

Led by the 27-point performance of Bruce Miller, the Mustangs defeated the Alamo Heights Mules 61-48. The Hosses used a blend of power and speed to gain a 34-20 lead at the end of the 1st half. In the last half the Mustangs controlled the ball and kept the Mules from coming back. Gary Stroth and Jerry Few were runners-up for the Ponies with 8 points each.

Jerry Few tries to escape an umbrella of arms for a 2-point attempt.

MacArthur

54-49

Alamo Stadium Gym: January 29—

In a well-fought game the Mustangs nipped the MacArthur Brahmas 54-49. The Ponies held a sizeable advantage until the 4th quarter when a full court press by the Brahmas shortened the gap. The 1st half was controlled by the Hosses and it ended in their favor, 30-27. Gary Stroth scored 19 points to lead the Mustangs.

Harlandale

Harlandale Gym: February 6—

The revenge-hungry Mustangs gobbled up the Harlandale Indians 58-49 to atone for their earlier defeat at the hands of the Redmen. The score stood 26-26 at halftime, but during the 3rd quarter, the Hosses pulled away to victory. Harlandale's defeat was the first district loss on their own court in 2 years. Bruce Miller turned in one of his finest performances all season as he stuffed in 30 points to lead the Mustang scorers. Dickie Franz was top man on the Indian totem-pole with 29.

High-flying Bruce Miller fakes out his opponent as he tosses the ball to Gary Froth.

George Gaiser heads for point-land in the Highlands game.

Highlands

47-60

Alamo Stadium Gym: February 8—

"Upset"-minded Mustangs fell prey to the Highlands Owls 60-47 in a game fought on even terms until late in the 3rd quarter. The 1st half ended in a 27-27 tie and was marked by the excellent play of both teams. The Owls were able to control the game in the 2nd half, and this was the principle factor in their victory. Bruce Miller scored 13 points to lead the Hosses. Jerry Few was 2nd with 11.

Ponies Capture Alamo Championship

Strengthened by experienced and hard-hitting juniors, the Jefferson Ponies had a perfect season winning the Alamo League Championship. A smooth backfield, featuring Grady Eggleston and Art Toscano, operated behind the protection of an agile line. Heading the line were Jack Eisenhart and Mike Gulley. Other outstanding players were Marshall Hodge, Bob Gulley, Mike McCall, Bill Robinson, and Johnny Braubach, doing the line duties. Backfield men Arie Britt, Bob Stanley, Mike Claypool, and Lloyd Wilborn did creditable jobs of carrying the ball. Grady Eggleston led the running game by gaining 795 yards and scoring 10 times. Jack Eisenhart displayed a pair of hands that could hold onto anything the quarterback threw near him. A favorite play, one that always kept the opposition awake, was a short jump pass from Toscano to Eisenhart that gained 8 and 10 yards at a time. Mr. Gerald Evetts ended his first year as Pony coach with the team's first city crown since 1957. His fine coaching and the boys' hard work help build Mustangs for future years.

Fullback Grady Eggleston, the Ponies' leading gainer, scampers for a short gain against Lee.

Ponies - Kings of the Courts

MacArthur defenders attempt to prevent Ray Richter from scoring for the Mustangs.

Losing only 2 games to rival squads, the Ponies proved to be a training medium for next year's Mustangs. Mainstays of the team were Ra Richter. Jim Nelson, Ricky Biel, Jack Eisenhart, David Miller, and Dan Knauf. Under the coaching of Mr. James Heiser, the combination of a smooth first team with a strong bench enabled the Ponies to capture the city championship.

The newly formed Sophomore Mustangs crushed all opposition the city could offer. Playing a 7-game schedule, hard hitting linemen John Luna, Rusty Daughtry and Larry Max did a commendable job blocking for swift runners James Jefferson, Hardy Sides, and David Damerall.

The Sophomore Mustangs, coached by Mr. Ken Kelley, were formed to give boys a year of experience by playing against other outstanding sophs. These boys may play on the Mustangs anytime during the season but may participate in only one game per week. Sophomores are eligible to play on the Ponies, Sophomore Mustangs, or the varsity but are placed on one team or the other by the coaches.

Galloping down the stretch, Hardy Sides set his sights on 6 points for the JV's.

Sophomore Surge Shows Future Promise

The Sophomore Basketball Team, formed to play other local schools with similar squads, in its first year enjoyed a season of training under the coaching of Mr. Gerald Evetts. The Colts started the year by winning only 1 of their 1st 9 games but finished by taking their last 5. Wayne Kalisky and Sammy Saucedo were the bright spots for the team that had a 6 and 8 record. The qualified JV's will move up to the Mustangs during the 1962-63 season.

Jeff Places in District Derby

Although the Jefferson thinly clads did not win the district title, there were many fine performances. Eight boys qualified for regional and five went to state. This team was possibly the best Coach Ken Kelley has produced. However, Highlands, with several outstanding individuals, grabbed the spotlight leaving Jeff in second place.

The sprint relay, composed of James Jefferson, Bobby Lee, Phil Harris, and Bo Sturdivant broke the school record and qualified for the state meet by running a 42.8. Arthur Rodriguez ran a 1.59 half-mile in the Regional Meet to advance to state. Gene Mangum performed brilliantly, vaulting with the fiberglass-pole the Lassos bought him. Weightmen Dick Cunningham, David Sims, and Charles Jackson put the shot and threw the discus to give the team points in the field events.

Tracksters Score

Phil Harris, Bobby Lee, Bo Sturdivant, and James Jefferson compose the 440-relay team that finished 2nd in District and advanced to the State meet.

Head Coach Kenneth Kelley teaches district discus champ, Charles Jackson, the finer points of the art.

Rare Treat: Send 5 to State Meet

Arthur Rodriguez lunges across the finish line to win the 880 in the District meet. He advanced to the State meet.

In a moment of spirited fury, Bobby Lee sprints toward the tape, taking 3rd place in the District meet for the 100-yard dash.

Gene Mangum shows the perfect form that enabled him to capture 1st place in District pole vault.

Fairway Boys Make Good

Linkster Bill Hamilton strokes the ball near the pin during the district meet at Willow Springs.

Jefferson's linksters left an impressive record for the '62 campaign. The Mustang Golf Team, coached by Mr. Weldon Hastings, captured a 1st place in the Brady Golf Tournament and 3rd places in the Border Olympics and the Corpus Christi Invitational Tournament. The Hosses finished 2nd in district and were entitled to compete in the regional meet. In the Region IV Meet the Ponies lassoed a 2nd place, finishing behind the Mules of Alamo Heights. Losing only 3 men from the 1st 2 teams, the Mustangs will present strong contention for the '63 season.

The sports editor asked for an unusual picture of Coach Charles Tedford. This is it. The tennis balls are placed to attract your attention. We succeeded, didn't we?

Always a powerhouse in District 15-AAAA, the tennis squad took the district crown once again. Singles victories by Chip Massey and Becky Ortiz in the District meet at San Pedro Park advanced them to Regional meet, where Chip was runner-up for boys' singles title. The squad brought home trophies from the Hearts' Delight Tournament at Falfurrias and from the Corpus Christi Invitational Meet.

Chip Massey, Andy De Leon, juniors, and Byron Tankersley, sophomore, will be the main strength of next year's boys' team. Senior Becky Ortiz turned in a fine performance and junior Sharon Gaskill will try to take up the slack in '63.

Netters Field Five Star Finalists

Tankers Meet Their Waterloo

The 1962 version of the Mustang Swimming Team took 2nd place in the District meet in Woodlawn Pool losing to the Alamo Heights Mules. Leading the team were Bruce Miller, Larry Steiger, Doug Doolittle, Eric Brooks, and John Burns. The Ponies placed in the 40-yd. free style, 100-yd. butterfly, 100-yd. back stroke, 100-yd. free style, 180-yd. medley relay, 160-yd. free style relay, and diving.

Bruce Miller catapults himself to a 2nd-place finish in diving competition in the District meet.

They Help the Hosses

To function properly, every team needs a workhorse to do the odd jobs. The team manager is schooled in first aid and is responsible for the maintenance of equipment. Being the coaches' right-hand man, the manager has to keep up with the rosters and other information concerning the players. He forms a vital link in the chain of victory.

Football managers are Mike Norris, Richard Martin, and Alan Roberts. Senior managers Richard Fite and Jeff Moorhead are not pictured.

Basketball managers for the '61-'62 season were Ray Lovelace and Mike Sauer.

Background workers for the track team are managers Daniel Trevino and Gary Schuchart.

Appointing themselves as official guides around St. Mary's University, T. D. Seligmann and Charlie Cowan point out the various highlights on campus to Nenita Acosta and Cindy Carr. Nenita seems interested in the Administration Building—but Cindy catches sight of a student dangling out a fourth floor window of the Science Building. It was later explained that he was preparing for a physics experiment.

PIONEERING THE USE OF HIGH SCHOOL COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY

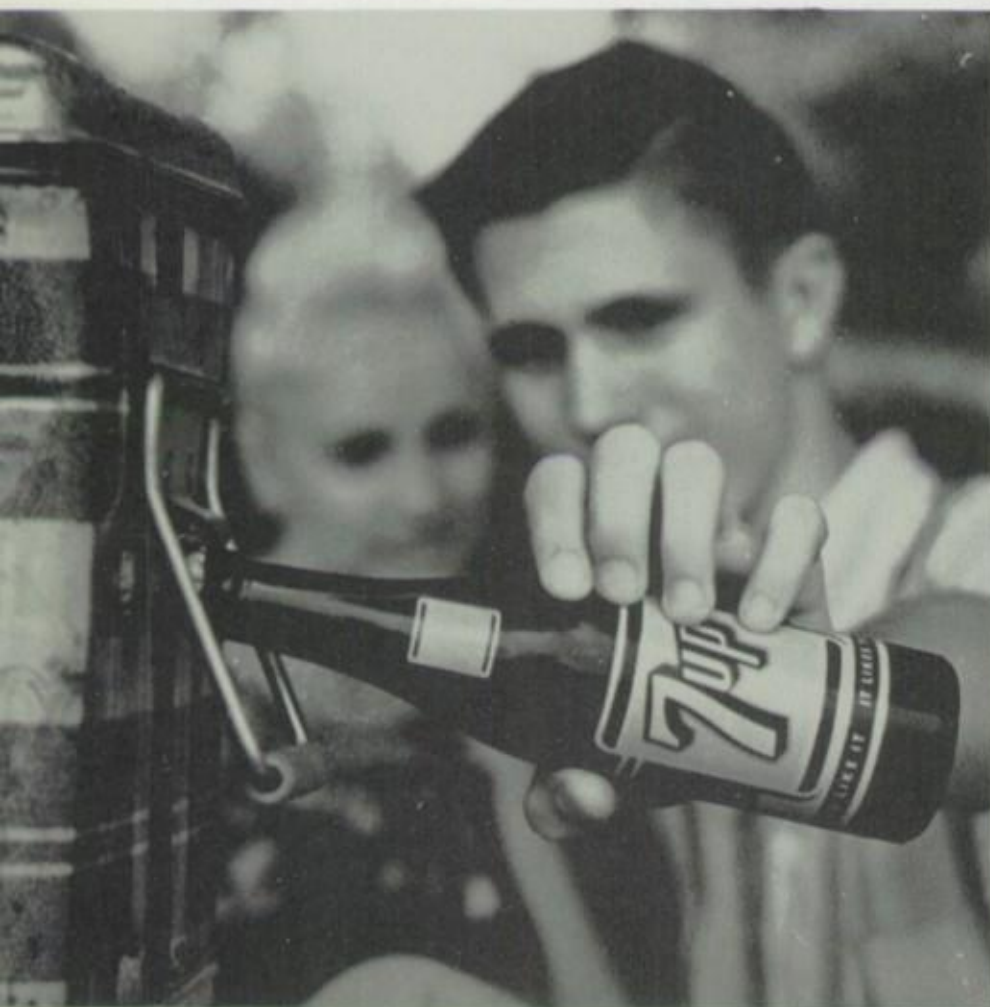

Jeffites have a difficult time choosing an album at Silvey Music Company because of the wide variety of records. Enjoying the cool atmosphere are Nancy Herring, Bruce Miller, Bob Gulley, Cheryl Hodges, Ruth Hankins, Beth Mueller, and Jerry Dunn.

Tri-Hi-Y for Fun and Philanthropy

Selling candy to support Y.M.C.A. programs is one project of the Alpha Delta chapter of Tri-Hi-Y. Other activities include monthly church attendance as a group, a cake sale, a formal initiation, and hay rides. Organized as a branch of the Y.M.C.A., Tri-Hi-Y acts to extend service and religion in the community. A special project of the year was visiting the Southton Convalescent Home once each month.

Parties, Projects for Jeff Tri-Hi-Y

Cake sales, car washes, a retreat to Circle R Ranch, the annual trip to Ella Austin Orphanage, representation at Youth and Government, and parties filled the year for the Jefferson Tri-Hi-Y. Main purposes of the organization are providing parties for orphans at Ella Austin and fund-raising drives to support various local charities.

The Charm of Jefferson

And as we leave you, Jefferson,

We'll not forget your many beauties.

Silver domed, you stand under the Texas sky,

A proud and mighty castle of ivory brick.

Everywhere are your gifts of beauty:

Rolling lawns, winding walks,

Shady patios, budding blossoms,

Tall trees, and fluttering flags.

Within walls, dreams of knowledge are found

Where teachers lecture, give tests

And advice, seeking to inform the inquisitive mind.

The students seldom pause during the Busy year, for they are

Attending initiations, collecting note cards,

Grade slips, honors, shedding sentimental

Tears and old book covers on the last day.

And in three short years we are gone.

But the charm of Jefferson lives on and on.

Linda -
Remember good
times - stay crazy.
Here's luck with the guys, not that you need any. Be good -
Always,
Lana '62
Mullen

Howdy!
Lotsa luck to a real sweet gal
good luck with ol'
Dom!
Love Nya!
M.E.

Linda,
It's been great
knowing you at Jeff sweetie. Let's keep in touch.
Love,
Linda

Linda,
Lots of luck in everything (Haha)
You know. You are a real cute girl

Love ya,
Dyke
Best wishes to a
real sweet girl,
George Minnam

We had lots of in the group but that's all over with.
Love
Dyke

Jinda,
It has really been
great knowing you.
Best of luck in all
you do.

Best wishes
Mike Kelley
